EXPLANATIONS

This book is divided into five parts, viz:

PART I Contains the gravestone inscriptions to the year 1932, and lists all individuals buried in Otis who are named on these stones.

PART II Contains new names found on the stones in October 1933.

PART III Contains all names mentioned on the stones as parents of children or husbands of the deceased, but not mentioned as buried here.

PART IV Contains all the gravestones listed by rows.

PART V Contains diagrams and photographs, all original, by Walter E. Corbin.

The numbers at the right hand side of each page refer to the cemetery, row and number of stone in the row,

thus: IV 6 - 17

Cemetery
Stone No.

Each name underlined in red denotes a gravestone with its entire inscription.

The names underlined in black are the additional names when more than one appears on the stone.

Wives' names are given in parenthesis after the husband's.

Each married woman is listed under her maiden name, if known, as well as under her married name.

The kind of stone, if other than marble or granite, is mentioned, and also the condition, if poor.

Metal markers of various organizations and flags have been noted. GAR markers are used, if any, at practically all soldiers' graves except World War soldiers. In the older cemeteries flags only are used without markers.

Items in parenthesis are explanations that have been added by the compiler.

A list of the cemeteries as numbered, and a list of the family names in the combined cemeteries will be found at the beginning of the book.

5. TRAY

1. The first part of the tray is the base, which is made of a material that is strong and durable. It is usually made of wood or metal, and it is painted or stained to match the rest of the tray. The base is the foundation of the tray, and it is the part that the other parts are attached to.

2. The second part of the tray is the rim, which is the edge of the tray. It is usually made of a material that is strong and durable, and it is painted or stained to match the rest of the tray. The rim is the part that the tray sits on, and it is the part that the other parts are attached to.

3. The third part of the tray is the handle, which is the part that you use to hold the tray. It is usually made of a material that is strong and durable, and it is painted or stained to match the rest of the tray. The handle is the part that you hold, and it is the part that the other parts are attached to.

Cemetery IV

The Old East Otis Cemetery

About  $\frac{9}{10}$  of a mile west of East Otis Post Office there is an old road resembling a cart path, which turns off the main road at the left and extends into the woods. The old cemetery is on the left of this old road  $\frac{1}{10}$  of a mile from the main road. This cemetery covers about 1 acre and there were (in 1933) 82 stones of the marble slab type scattered over about  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the ground. Most of the stones face southerly with a few facing west.

This cemetery was neglected and allowed to grow up to trees and brush until recently when it was cut off and cleaned up, and the stones straightened and many reset in cement.
